The Digital Learning Hub is a training centre for digital skills created by the Ministry of Education, Children and Youth.

Who can take courses at the Digital Learning Hub?

Every adult who wants to reskill or upskill: aside from a few more advanced courses, we have no specific prerequisites.

How long are the courses?

We have two types of courses: short trainings that extend your existing skillset with specific lessons that range from 2 to 20 hours, and learning tracks that go into greater detail and can take up to 100 hours to complete.

Where do the courses take place?

Our courses take place in Belval and are usually in-person. We believe that a more hands-on approach creates better learning opportunities and a more connected community of learners.

Are the courses expensive?

The courses at the Digital Learning Hub are affordable for everybody, as they are supported by the Ministry of Education, Children and Youth.
